

Stillwater County ELEVATE is a set of projects phased over a five-year period aimed at improving access to services for all county residents. Recently, we asked county residents to provide their feedback on the project through an online/printed survey. A total of 1,033 surveys have been submitted to help us chart the course towards the future. The responses are shown here.

A few notes on the survey results:

This tabulation includes 1,033 surveys received by 10:15am on Friday, August 6th.

93 surveys were received before a survey mailer was sent to every residence in Stillwater County with a valid address registered with USPS to receive Every Door Direct Mail.

The remaining 940 surveys were received after the survey mailer was sent out. Of those, 236 were submitted electronically and 704 were returned by Business Reply Mail.

A total of 4,708 mailers were sent out. If all 940 survey responses received since the mailing went out were in response to that mailing, we have had a response rate of 19.97%. We can directly correlate the 704 surveys returned by mail to our mailer, delivering a mail-back response rate of 14.95%. The average direct mail response rate for prospect lists was 4.9% last year.
